In Pakistan, more than 1000 women perceived as having compromised the “honour” of their families are reported to be killed each year. Families are often pressured to forgive and absolve the aggressors, which allows them to return to the community. Told through the lens of a love story, this Oscar-awarded documentary examines the tensions between modernism and tradition in Pakistan and follows Saba, a young Pakistani woman, who has survived her attempted honour killing by her own family. The film received the prize for Best Documentary Short Subject at the 2016 Academy Awards.

“Ciné-ONU Vienna” is part of a Europe-wide initiative of regular film screenings of UN related topics followed by podium discussions with invited guests who were part of the film making process or are experts in the topic covered by the film. The United Nations Information Service (UNIS) Vienna is honoured to have “Ciné-ONU Vienna” partner with this human world (THW) film festival and Topkino for the regular film screenings in Vienna.
